(Special to the Daily Press.)

LYNCHING, VA., Sept. 18.—Great indignation prevails here this morning on account of the assault made upon Mrs. Lucy Blanks, wife of George Blanks, of Rivermont, last night by a negro, who threatened to cut the woman's throat if she screamed.

Shortly after dark Mrs. Blanks went out into the yard to look after her cows, and it was while some distance from her home that she was attacked by the negro, who struck her over the head and choked her.

When Mrs. Blanks tried to scream the negro drew a razor and told her he would end her life if she opened her mouth again. A little later, however, Mrs. Blanks, seeing that her assailant was under the influence of liquor, succeeded in persuading him to let her go to the house for some eggs for him.

On reaching the house, she told her husband and son what had happened. Her statement angered her husband and son, but before they could reach the scene where the negro had made the murderous attack the assailant had jumped over a fence and escaped. The police last night arrested two negroes under suspicion. One of them answers the description of the assailant.

Notice.

In effect September 16, 1906. To the consumers of milk in the city of Newport News, Va.: Owing to the advancement in the price of feed of all kinds, caused by the extreme wet weather during the months of July and August, it became necessary on the part of the dairymen of Newport News to advance the price of milk from 8 to 10 cents per quart, and 30 cents per gallon. This advance in milk is a source of much regret to the dairymen, but circumstances over which they have no control make it necessary for their own protection. Customers must set empty bottles out daily or there will be no milk left. All broken bottles must be paid for. (Signed)
